Two-Year Draft Bill Favored

Passes 28-5 In Committee

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House armed services committee today approved 28 to 5 a two-year draft bill.

The vote puts the issue for selective service formally before congress for the first time since the war. The measure calls for the nation's first peacetime draft.

Before voting, the committee heard Secretary of Defense Forrestal call the measure "excellent."

"There is an immediate and imperative demand for something to augment the size of our armed forces," he said. "This bill provides it."

Chairman Andrews (R-NY) called Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royall in for a final look at the measure before a formal committee vote. Royall said it is "thoroughly acceptable to all the services"—army, navy and air force.

They did not ask that the committee put in any provision for limited training of 18-year-olds, but Forrestal emphasized that he still believes universal military training is needed.

PROPOSES CHANGES

These are the bill's principal provisions:

1. It would raise the total authorized manpower of the armed forces to 2,005,882—army 837,000, air force 502,000, and navy and marine corps 666,882.

2. Men from 18 through 30 would be registered, with those from 19 through 25 liable for two years' service. Men in the 19-26 group could enlist voluntarily in the regular army for two years, but in no other service.

3. Most veterans would be exempt from service, but those under 31 would have to register.

4. Industrial plants could be seized by the government if they refused to give top priorities to armament orders, or if they did not provide equipment at what the secretary of defense considered reasonable prices.

5. Doctors up to 45 years old could be drafted for two years' service.

6. Ministers, divinity students and some conscientious objectors would be exempt from service.

7. Deferments for schooling, dependency, and occupation would be determined by the president.

8. The law would expire two years after it went into effect.

Milk Keeps High Level

Mansfielders continued to pay 20 cents a quart for milk today despite the fact that prices have dropped in two neighboring towns, Plymouth and Galion, as well as in Cleveland.

Dairymen said a price drop "is coming but we don't know when." They added that condition of pastures will govern the time producers can turn cattle out for supplemental feeding.

K. L. Sloan, manager of the Axtell dairy, said "it's just a guess," but that he expected milk prices to drop within a month.

Ben Boals, manager of the Page dairy, said there was "nothing definite on a milk price drop here as yet" and that a drop was not state-wide.

The Lofland dairy in Plymouth announced a one-cent drop on both regular and homogenized milk last Friday. Regular milk in Plymouth now retails for 19 cents and homogenized for 20 cents. A similar drop was reported in Galion.

Rules on Restrictions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme court ruled 6-0 today that restrictive real estate agreements which bar colored persons from all-white neighborhoods cannot be enforced by state or federal courts. The six justices at the same time refused to declare that such restrictive agreements are themselves invalid. Vinson wrote that so long as the agreements are voluntarily adhered to, without enforcement assistance by federal or state courts, they violate no law.

6,000 to Ballot In County; Lausche-Miller Race Hottest

More than 6,000 Richland county voters will turn out for tomorrow's primary, observers predicted this morning.

The weatherman was being very cooperative—promising the weather would be "fair and mild." The polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m., but those in line at deadline time will have the opportunity to vote.

The 6,000 or so voters, observers said, would be attracted by the gubernatorial contests, interesting local contests, and the Taft-Stassen contest for delegates.

The main Democratic state contest finds ex-Governor Frank J. Lausche pitted against Ray T. Miller, Democratic machine man, for the gubernatorial nomination.

Locally, Democats will choose one of three as their nominee for sheriff—Thomas J. Campbell, E. P. Long or Harold L. Marvin.

Republicans here will have a single opportunity to show their preference for a Stassen delegate candidate if they so choose.

Carrington T. Marshall seeks one of the nine delegate-at-large posts while the other nine running are pledged to Taft. Nine are to be elected. Only a Taft man seeks the post as delegate from this district to the Republican convention.

The ballot will say to whom the delegate is pledged underneath the delegate candidate's name.

Republicans have a choice of four in the sheriff's race, Charles J. Pittenger, James T. Little, C. M. Chatlain and Leonard J. Parrella.

The race for the Republican nomination for commissioner finds three entered, John C. Friday, John W. Selby and Charles H. Hebel. Two are to be nominated.

Election board officials reported that precinct officers today were picking up their supplies, ballots, flags, and voters' registration cards.

List Shows Woman, 17, Has Son, 7

XENIA—(AP)—Everybody was skeptical, but the income tax return showed the widowed mother of a seven-year-old boy was only 17 herself.

Edward H. Kendig, deputy collector of internal revenue here, reported checking and verifying the return in which a man listed as dependents his daughter and two grandchildren.

The daughter's age was given as 17, her son's as seven, and her daughter's as three, Kendig said. Her husband was killed in an automobile accident last year, when he was 18, Kendig added. He withheld the names

Turn Down Slav Claims

Only Russia Backs Demands

LONDON —(UP)— The United States, Great Britain and France today rejected Yugoslav territorial and reparations claims against Austria.

The western powers turned down the Yugoslav claims on Austria at the meeting of Big Four deputies at Lancaster house. Russia supported the claims, contending that they were well founded.

A Yugoslav delegation last week urged the deputies to agree to the cession of Southern Carinthia and payment of $150,000,000 in reparations. Ales Bebler, Yugoslav deputy foreign minister, headed the delegation. Foreign Minister Karl Gruber of Austria countered the claims.

Samuel Reber, U. S. deputy, said in rejecting the Yugoslav demands that the American government faithfully pursued two principles:

1. It consistently adhered to its international undertakings regarding Austria, and intends to abide by those commitments.

2. The solution of the Southern Carinthian frontier problem must be of such a nature as to provide the maximum opportunity for maintenance of stability and peace in that area.

Reber said the Yugoslav stand had been considered fully by the U. S. government from the racial, cultural, geographical and economic standpoint.

Wallace Aid Faces Charge In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho), running mate for Henry Wallace on the third party presidential ticket, faces a charge of disorderly conduct at a hearing set for Tuesday night in police court here.

Taylor was arrested Saturday night as he sought to enter a meeting of the Southern Negro Youth congress in a Negro church. He was fingerprinted and released in $100 bond.

The charges against the third party vice presidential candidate stemmed from Birmingham's racial segregation laws.

Patrolman W. W. Casey said he stopped Taylor from entering the church through an entrance used by Negroes and told him to use another entrance set aside for white persons. The senator, however, attempted to brush past him, the patrolman said.

Taylor left here Sunday afternoon for Washington. He said he would return Tuesday.

In a statement before leaving Taylor said "My arrest and manhandling is a blatant violation of my constitutional right."

Arabs Deny New Attack In Palestine

British Troops Ordered Back

JERUSALEM —(AP)— Jews insisted today, in the face of denials by Arabs that Syrian and Lebanese armies have invaded Northern Palestine.

The British rushed soldiers back into the country to deal with what they called a "seriously deteriorated" situation, less than two weeks before the May 15 date they have set to end their rule.

A truce, enforced by the Highland light infantry, apparently was being respected. Its spirit was evident all over Jerusalem. Not a single shot was heard today from within the city, either in the new or in the old quarters. Sporadic fighting was audible from some outer suburbs.

They guarded a new 48-hour truce between Jews and Arabs in the southerly Katamon quarter of Jerusalem while they negotiated for a truce to cover the whole city and its Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrines.

The first British reinforcements were an estimated 1,000 soldiers in full battle dress who reached Haifa yesterday from Cyprus aboard the troopship Emire Test.

Before that, competent sources had estimated British strength in Palestine at 25,000 troops, including skeleton armored and gun forces. The British army has been shipping out under a pledge to be gone by Aug. 1.

Official sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan, said Thursday Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Egypt and Iraq would send at least 30,000 regulars to "rescue Palestine before May 15."

The strength of the Jewish militia Haganah is estimated unofficially at 53,000 and that of the Jewish underground Irgun Zvai Leumi and Stern group together at 2,500 to 7,000.

Claim Soviet Officer Fled

BERLIN — (UP) — Reliable sources reported today that Lt. Col. Y. D. Tassoev of the Soviet army, who disappeared April 23 in Bremen, had sought "protective custody" of British authorities.

The Russians had charged the Americans with kidnaping Tassoev, whose name had been listed in earlier official reports as J. D. Tassajew.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay said Saturday that no Americans had kidnaped "that officer or any other Russian. If the Russian officer was kidnaped, it was by some one other than the Americans." He said the officer was not and never had been in American custody.

CARELESSNESS NOT WANTED—Mansfield literally has the "welcome sign" out today for careful drivers. A dozen signs like this one being given smiling approval by six-year-old Eddie Junker are being placed at the dozen highways leading into the city. Eddie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Junker, Muth road. The 36-by-42-inch metal black and white signs are being erected by the city on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce safety committee.

Regular Meetings Planned

100 Truckers Pledge Safety on Roads

Approximately 100 members of the local AFL Teamsters Union voiced their approval last night at Teamsters' hall at the area's first safety meeting for prevention of highway accidents.

The truck drivers, many of whom have 10-to-15-year records of non-chargeable accident driving, all agreed that more meetings should be held and more safety programs offered.

The union hopes to hold meetings on safety campaign at least once a month and will welcome attendance from city drivers and the general public.

Cpl. J. L. Bishop of the state highway patrol gave the members an account of accidents and which easily might have been prevented by safety education meetings.

Richard Boose, supervisor of Norwalk Truck Lines, pointed out to the members that they were comparable to actors on a stage with the driver the actor and the public his audience nd his reception depending on his acting as a safe driver.

The experimental meeting that met with so much success originally was planned by John Wakeley, vice president of local 40, who has been striving for local meetings for over a year.

A sound slide film, "Tragic Road to Safety," showed the results of driving hazards and conditions which face the truck driver. Actual still pictures of tragic highway accidents really hit home when Rudy Schneider, secretary-treasurer of the union, recognized one as an accident he had witnessed a few years ago.

Bomb Kills Wrong Man

WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng. — (AP)—A parcel bomb addressed to Capt. Roy Farran, acquitted of killing a Jewish boy in Palestine, exploded today, killing his brother, Rex Farran, 26.

The bomb, enclosed in a copy of Shakespeare's plays, was delivered at the Farran home this morning.

Young Farran was alone in the house. The explosion shattered windows. Police said the parcel was mailed in England. The inside of the book had been cut away to make room for the bomb.

The Jewish youth, Alexander Rubowitz, 18, disappeared last May 6. The Stern gang, Jewish underground organization in Palestine, claimed him as a member. The military court which acquitted Roy Farran ruled that Rubowitz had not been proved dead.

Even a General Needs Basic Training

Eisenhower Getting Ready For New Job

NEW YORK — (INS) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower begins basic training today for his new job.

The five-star general of the army, who arrived in New York yesterday to assume the presidency of Columbia university on June 7, has a month of "briefing" ahead of him.

During that month "Ike" will learn the ropes of his new civilian position, which will make him the administrator of one of the world's greatest institutions of education.

The man who led American troops to victory in Europe will also spend the time working on his memoirs.

An informal gathering of 200 persons — mainly neighbors, newsmen, and photographers — were on hand to greet the general and his wife Mamie when they arrived yesterday afternoon from Fort Myer, Va.

The Eisenhowers have taken up residence in the four-story red brick building on 60 Morningside drive, the traditional home of Columbia presidents.

Earlier in the day, "Ike" took his official leave of the U. S. army, in simple but impressive ceremonies at Fort Myer, Va.

An honor guard came to "present arms," and the man who endeared himself to millions of GI's, responded with what may have been the last salute of his 37-year army career.

The general will be inducted into the presidency—of Columbia—on the Monday after commencement exercises on the Morningside campus.

CIO Defies Warning By Meat Firm

Strikers Reinforce Their Picket Lines

CHICAGO — (UP) — Striking CIO Packinghouse Workers reinforced their picket lines at all gates of the big Chicago stockyards today in defiance of Wilson and company's warning that it planned to fire Chicago strikers who did not report for work today.

Many members of other CIO unions in Chicago appeared to march on the picket lines in answer to an appeal by the packinghouse workers.

About 1,000 pickets paraded at the stockyards gates at 7 a. m. (CDT) the time the day shift starts. About 200 concentrated in front of the Wilson plant.

The pickets fell back sullenly to let several refrigerator-trucks through the gates. Some cars bearing non-striking production workers were also inched past the pickets. The pickets jeered.

Many of the "guest" pickets were from the CIO United Electrical Workers and the CIO United Farm Equipment Workers. They carried signs pledging continued support to the strikers.

The pickets, most of whom carried newly-painted sandwich boards, lockstepped in circles so tightly closed it would be impossible for non-strikers to enter the plant unless lanes were opened for them.

Packinghouse union officials said they were determined to carry on the strike despite Wilson and company's back to work program.

At the same time, the union announced that it was planning to "extend strike activities in the meat industry."

At Omaha, union officials went before Nebraska's Gov. Val Peterson to ask him to ignore an appeal by the packing firms for national guardsmen to keep order on picket lines. The firms have vowed to reopen struck Omaha plants today.

Ohio Storm Loss Heavy

COLUMBUS—(AP)—High winds lashed sections of southern and central Ohio yesterday, causing damage and minor injuries to at lest four persons.

Most damage was centered in farming areas around Greenville in Darke county and Urbana in Champaign county.

Heavy rains and hail accompanied the winds—which were registered in gusts up to 70 miles an hour at the peak of the storm.

Scores of barns were unroofed or destroyed and dozens of farm homes were damaged. Hundreds of rural residents were without electricity or telephone service. Traffic was disrupted as trees fell across roads.

Authorities at Greenville estimated loss in that area at $300,000. Urbana territory, however, was hit harder.

Five planes were buffeted at Ohio university airport in Athens and one of the historic, 100-year-old McGuffey elms on the campus was blown down.

Heavy Rain Fells High Voltage Wire

Last night's heavy rain was blamed by firemen today for knocking down a high voltage wire in front of 188 West Third street. Central station men, called to the scene at 7:46 p. m. Sunday, said no damage resulted.

R. D. Iden, distribution manager at the Ohio Public Service, said the line has been repaired today and that total damage from the electrical storm was "very minor."

Taft Ends Ohio Bout Swinging

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Senator Robert A. Taft ends his Ohio delegate battle in a flurry of activity today amid signs that the outcome may sway early GOP presidential balloting in Philadelphia.

Both Taft and his GOP rival, Harold E. Stassen, planned last hour appeals over state-wide radio hookups tonight in their contest over 23 of Ohio's 53 presidential nominating votes.

Both camps expressed confidence in the results.

Politicians were watching the outcome for its possible effect on foot-loose delegations from such states as Illinois and Pennsylvania, where the bloom of favorite sons might fade quickly.

From the Taft camp came reports a majority of the 56-vote Illinois group is ready to come their way speedily at the national convention.

In fact, some of the Taft followers are predicting the Ohioan can have 51 on the first ballot, despite previous plans to back Gov. Dwight Green as a favorite son. Green has been named as the national convention keynoter.

NEEDS GOOD SHOWING

But these Taft supporters admit privately that unless the senator can stand Stassen off with a half dozen or fewer delegates from his own vote orchard, the Illinois plums may fall on the other side of the wall.

There is some talk that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's friends may be around to pick them up.

Taft's hope for support in the 73-vote Pennsylvania delegation—pledged to Senator Edward Martin as a favorite son—was said to hinge in part of his showing here.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, now campaigning to keep Oregon's 12 convention votes out of Stassen's hands, has his eye on the Pennsylvania delegation, too.

Stassen's backers concede that the Illinois-Pennsylvania delegate lineup may be the battering ram of a stop-Stassen movement.

With that in mind, they are straining every point to pile a victory in Ohio on top of previous popular vote successes in Nebraska and Pennsylvania and a delegate-winning spree in Wisconsin.

Workers Dig For Victim

Think Buried Man Might Be Alive

CHELSEA, Mass.—(UP)—Rescue workers dug away hundreds of tons of dirt today in an attempt to reach a laborer who still may be alive, trapped in a sewer pit 60 feet below the street.

The workers already had removed 600 tons of earth from a 24-foot hole in the search for Angelo Corsino, 33, a water department employe who tumbled into a subterranean crevice Saturday night when the ground cracked open beneath him as he worked in a five foot hole.

Officials believed he was buried alive under tons of rocks and earth or else was drowned in the sewage channel which might have been broken by a landslide that followed Corsino's fall. The channel is 60 feet under ground.

However, officials theorized there might be several air pockets in the strange crevice where Corsino could get enough air to stay alive. While the man's two brothers watched silently; more than a score of city employes dug with picks, buckets and their hands. A power shovel also tossed aside the earth.

Meanwhile, at Boston harbor where the underground sewer empties into the sea, workmen constructed screens to intercept Corsino's body in case he had been sucked into the sewer.

Rice Murder Suspect Held

COLUMBUS—(UP)—Homer Jack Dean, 37, whom police here describe as the "No. 1 suspect" in the slaying of Elmo C. Rice, a Columbus real estate dealer, last Dec. 10, was in custody of Huntington, W. Va., authorities today.

Dean, a fugitive from a West Virginia state mental institution since Feb. 10, was captured last night by two carloads of heavily armed police as he pumped up a flat tire near Ironton. Officers from Ashland, Ky., and Lawrence county, O., joined to make the arrest after receiving a tip that Dean was in the vicinity.

Tornadoes Rip Over 7 States

Property Loss In Millions

(By Associated Press)

Tornadoes and violent windstorms whipped across seven states over the week end, killing at least 21 persons and injuring more than 160.

Property damage was estimated in the millions.

West Virginia and Kentucky communities were lashed by tornadoes last night. Twisters hit in Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas Saturday. High winds and heavy rains occurred in Indiana and Illinois.

The death toll by states:

West Virginia, six; Kentucky, four; Oklahoma, five; Missouri, three; Kansas, two; Illinois, one.

In West Virginia, tornadic winds ripped through six rural communities near Clarksburg in the northern part of the state. State police reported more than 65 persons were injured.

West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolf Summit, Mount Clare and Quiet Dell were the communities hardest hit. Highways were blocked and communication lines were down, hampering rescue operations.

In Kentucky a tornado hit Alpha, a town of 140 in Clinton county. The storm wrecked the Davis Chapel church where an estimated 125 were attending services.

HOUSES DESTROYED

Deputy Policeman Wiley Gregory said quite a few houses were destroyed. Alpha is midway between Albany and Monticello near the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

Rescue workers sought additional victims in the debris and mud of the tornado-battered West Virginia communities. Wrecked automobiles, trees and debris from nearby strip-mining operations cluttered U. S. Route 19 leading to the damaged town of Hupp Hill, W. Va.

The twister hit in West Virginia about 9 p. m. (EST).

Hospitals were jammed. All available doctors and nurses in the stricken areas were called on duty.

Clarksburg Fire Chief J. J. Martin reported broken gas lines ignited in Mount Clare, adding to the havoc. Lawrence McKinney, a storm victim, said he saw at least three homes ablaze.

Ten persons were killed and at least 38 were injured in the tornadoes in Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.

A storm struck in the Grand Lake area of northeastern Oklahoma, hitting the resort towns of Bernice, Whiteoak and Grove. Five persons were killed at Bernice. Thirty-one persons were injured in Grand Lake area.

Sixty miles north of the Grand Lake area, twisters hit near Erie, Kas., killing two persons and injuring five.

COTTAGES DESTROYED

Tornadic winds whipped across the Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri, damaging hundreds of cottages and houses. Three members of a fishing party drowned when their boat overturned.

Three separate tornadoes were reported in Kansas, the first being observed about 7:30 p. m. (EST) Saturday. Numerous farm buildings were destroyed or damaged.

One man was electrocuted and ten persons were injured during a wind, hail and rain storm yesterday at St. Louis, Mo., and the adjacent Illinois area.

Four persons were injured during high winds and heavy rains in east-central Indiana. Twelve homes were reported destroyed and many farm buildings were damaged. Ridgeville in Randolph county was hardest hit.

Hunt 2 OSR Escapers

A state-wide alarm for two Mansfield reformatory inmates was broadcast today from the institution.

The escapers were reported by Supt. Arthur L. Glattke, as Ralph "Tiger" Garland, 22, and Lonnie Mullins, 20, both sentenced from one to 20 years for auto theft.

Garland was received on Oct. 21, 1947 from Putnam county. Mullins entered the OSR on April 19 last year from Summit county.

Glattke said the inmates were believed to have made their get-a-away about 8 p. m. Sunday from the dairy barn.

Strikers Deserve No Sympathy If Punished For Law Violation

THE RIOTERS who lay down at the New York stock exchange and slugged police have received undeserved sympathy from the Civil Liberties Union in a "report" composed by one Louis Bender. The Civil Liberties Union, contrary to superstition, is not a communist organization. In fact, the Liberties crowd got fed up and threw their own communists out, a high-handed way of doing but the human thing to do, after all.

Mr. Bender is introduced by the Civil Liberties union as a former assistant to the attorney general of the United States, apparently with intent to recommend him. They might better have said nothing about it.

The office of attorney general has been cluttered with some very dubious assistants in the last 15 years. Some were communists, some were paltry ambulance chasers and some were draft-dodgers who sat out the war and, in common with lesser parasites in the department of justice, accumulated for their own profit, in private practice and blackmail later, great bulging folders of confidential information about the private business of other citizens.

It is generously assumed that Mr. Bender was better than most who have held his or other titles in the D. of J. He easily could be and the fact that he was would be no accolade either.

The riot at the stock exchange was an organized insurrection against the authority of government and the safety of New York. Those who took part in it knew they were flouting law and the police authority.

They deserved to be clubbed senseless or, if that were necessary, to be clubbed to death in the interests of public order and government. The police should always use all the force necessary to maintain order and, in all emergencies amid the confusion of disorder, should use more than is necessary, rather than less. To err on the scant side in such cases is to invite horrors and incur blame.

Every day, somewhere in the United States, some policeman or sheriff kills a holdup whose removal is applauded as good riddance and a public service. In New York it is customary to hand medals and private gifts of money to cops who perform these shining deeds. But the gunman or mugger who is thus considered to be fair game for the cop is much less dangerous to the general safety of the community than the picket-line rioter.

He has no friends, even in the attorney general's office or, indeed, in the White House itself, unless and until he takes up the union racket and becomes, as the euphemism has it, a labor leader.

I can and often have named about a hundred such murderous wantons who did comply with the New Deal's amenities and thus enjoyed honors and powers under Roosevelt's patronage and the Wagner act.

★

All were catalogued in the FBI's files and the records of the New York Police department and to say that the department of justice, the department of labor and the labor relations board didn't know these rascals were operating under New Deal credentials is to impugn the very virtue as well as the legendary wisdom and efficiency of these bureaus.

Blue Star Mothers End Session

Officers Installed At Final Meeting

The fifth annual convention of the Blue Star Mothers of Ohio closed Sunday with worship services at the First Presbyterian church and the St. Peter's Catholic church in the morning and a memorial service and installation of new officers in the afternoon.

The afternoon session was opened with a memorial service in charge of members of the local chapter, Fred C. Harrington post. Twenty mothers participated in the impressive candlelight service in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The service was in memory of the 31 deaths in the 44 chapters of the state.

Mrs. Ann B. Sine, national president of the Blue Star Mothers of America, was chaplain and Mrs. Ruth Dunlap, past national president, served as the installing officer. The University chapter of Columbus put on the floor work.

County Buys Truck-Crane

Board Also Approves Purchase of Tractor

Purchase of a truck-crane at an approximate cost of $17,876 and a truck-tractor to cost about $4,527, was authorized today by the county commissioners.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk said the orders had not yet been placed with the firms.

He said a four-wheel drive truck would be purchased from the Toombs Truck Sales company of Columbus, and a crane for the truck from the Hanson Crane company of Tiffin, at a cost of approximately $7,900.

The cost of a pile-driving hammer, piling leads and an earth bucket will be about $2,500.

Rusk said the equipment will facilitate the work of the bridge department. The equipment will replace rental expenses. At present such equipment is rented.

The truck-tractor will be purchased from the G. L. Rogers company, Mansfield. In addition, a fifth wheel, heavy duty transmission and accessories will cost $300.

A dolly, presently used for the work, will be offered for sale.

The new equipment will be paid for from auto license and gasoline tax funds.

Carl M. Griffith, Mansfield R. D. 5, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail in municipal court today for operating a motor vehicle while his driver's license was suspended. He also was fined $25 and costs for unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

Griffith's license was suspended for three years in January after he was found guilty of failing to stop after an accident.

Five other traffic law violators paid fines of $10 and costs, four for speeding.

John Didicher, 516 Westview boulevard, Robert Mutsch, 86 Dawson avenue; Richard H. Jordan, 560 Cline avenue, and William G. Cox, Mansfield, R. D. 5, paid the speeding fines and Alney A. Truex, Mansfield, R. D. 4, was fined for making an improper left turn.

Greer Taken To Ohio Pen

Clarence Greer was taken to Columbus today to live out the rest of his days.

Sheriff's deputies took the 31-year-old slayer of two to Columbus at 10:45 a. m. Greer entered a plea of guilty to the killing of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and her brother, Ezell Taylor, 35, last Feb. 9.

A three-judge court sentenced Greer to life imprisonment last Thursday. The court had extended mercy, saving Greer from the electric chair.

Wife's Charge Jails Husband

Blaine Foster, Belmont avenue, was sentenced today to 30 days in the county jail on an assault and battery charge brought against him by his wife, Nora.

Foster was given a 30 days suspended sentence on April 2 on the same charge. After he was found guilty today, municipal court vacated the original suspension and meted out an additional fine of $10 and costs.

Family Builds Own Modern Log Cabin

By DWYER CLAY

A log cabin home that's a far cry from the kind presidential candidates claim as birthplaces has been built on the Fleming Falls road by the Leland H. Hawkins family.

The home was built of spruce logs cut in Canada, peeled in Michigan, and shipped to Pavonia. Hawkins and his 18-year-old son, Robert Lee, did a big part of the construction work, and now are finishing the home.

Interior of the house is finished in knotty pine. The house is equipped with modern conveniences, including electric range and refrigerator, oil heating, automatic hot water tank, partial fluorescent lighting, a deep freeze, and electric water pump bringing water from the Hawkin's own well.

"We are not quite finished with the interior yet or the outside leveling," Mrs. Hawkins explained, but Mr. Hawkins is spending almost all of his spare time working on it and we expect to have it finished soon."

5-YEAR DREAM

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins planned to build the log home about five years ago after visiting several homes of the type in the middle west. Originally from Michigan and residents of Mansfield for the past 20 years, they are highly pleased that their dream has become a reality.

Hawkins designed the house himself and drew the plans to scale. Then he hired a construction company to lay the concrete foundation and erect the logs. After that Hawkins took over, installing all the plumbing and electrical wiring.

A creek running through the hollow on the south side will be dammed into a private lake for summer swimming and winter skating.

Hawkins is a bank equipment inspector.

Besides their son, Robert Lee, the Hawkins have two daughters, Jo Ann, 15, and Sandra, 10.

Auto Upsets, Four Escape

Four Greenwich youths escaped injury early Sunday when their car turned over at a curve on the airport detour, approximately seven miles north of Mansfield.

Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred about 2:30 a. m. Floyd E. Marietta, 17, the driver, said he lost control of the car on a curve.

Escaping injury along with Marietta were passengers: Jack DeVoe, 18; Russell Burkett, 18, and Dale Otterbacher, 17.

Deputies said the car, damaged on the top, front fenders and hood, is owned by Marietta's father, John Marietta, also of Greenwich.

MOUSER WANTED—

The Park avenue west Isaly Dairy store is badly in need of a cat. The former mouse-catcher, which had served the store faithfully with her natural mouse-control instinct, died last week in kitten-birth. Workers opened up the store one morning to be greeted by faint, squeeky noises. After a long search they found their mouser, dead behind a cupboard. Four new-born kittens lay beside her. Medicine-dropper feedings saved two of the kittens which now are following an adopted mother on the Fulton farm, South Main street road. Anyone willing to donate a cat to the cause is asked to get in touch with the dairy store, 46 Park avenue west.

Program Will End This Year

200 at Forum Discuss Problem

Religious education in Mansfield public schools on "released time" is definitely out. The current program cannot be resumed next fall.

That was the consensus of panel discussion leaders who took over the program at Town Meeting last night at the Central Methodist church.

In spite of the heavy downpour of rain a few minutes prior to the scheduled time for the meeting, at least 200 interested Mansfielders gathered in the church to listen to a discussion on the question of religious education in public schools and to ask questions regarding the problem.

The forum was opened with a brief talk by each of the panel discussion leaders, Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller; J. K. Linsenmayer, president of the Council of Religious Education; Judge Stuart H. Cramer, former council president; Mrs. Charles Ray, religious education teacher in city schools; Mrs. E. G. Pankow, P-TA council president, and Miss Dorothy Wolcott, head of the department of Religious Education of the Ohio Council of Churches.

NO SOLUTION OFFERED

Most of the score questions that followed had to do with the basis for the supreme court ruling, why it had been handed down, the advisability of such religious education in the school system, and similar questions. But no one offered a solution to the problem.

Miss Wolcott said that a "test' case of the advisability of holding religious education classes after school hours was being planned in a couple of Ohio towns.

Mrs. Ray contended that there would not be time enough here for such classes; that all after-school hours were taken up with extra-curriculum school activities.

Judge Cramer said there was no question but that the supreme court had ruled definitely that religious education on school time was out. "There is no appeal from the supreme court," he added.

Miller said there are three phases of the court ruling. First, tax money cannot be used for the support of such teaching; the administrative department of the schools cannot work with the religious education council as it has in the past, and third, school property cannot be used in the teaching.

'IN LAP OF CHURCHES'

Judge Cramer declared "the problem has been placed in the lap of the churches."

"It's our baby and we'll have to do something about it," he said.

"There seems to be an implication," Miller declared, "that the well-being of the pupils is being considered only in religious education classes. Our teachers teach good ethics and morals every day in their classes and they are themselves fine examples. Most Sunday school teachers are public school teachers."

But Mrs. Pankow took exception to that last statement.

"You're wrong there, Mr. Miller. Most Sunday school teachers are parents," she asserted.

The question as to whether there really was need for religious education was brought up.

HALF UNCHURCHED

Mrs. Ray said, "I find that one-half of American citizens are unchurched, which means that approximately that many children do not go to Sunday school and the only way they ever receive any religious training is through the schools."

Judge Cramer declared that at least 90 per cent of the juveniles who come to his court have never belonged to any Sunday school or church.

From the audience came a question as to the advisability of teaching only the Protestant religion when there were children of other faiths in the classes.

"I never use the word Christianity in my teaching," Mrs. Ray said. "I teach ethics, morals, history and culture through Bible stories. We study all sorts of religion, discuss many of them in our classes. Study is not limited merely to the Protestant religion."

CHALLENGE TO CHURCH

Linsenmayer declared the churches have been challenged.

"We can't have religious education teaching in public schools," he said "That is definite; there is no other interpretation of the supreme court ruling. Which means that the churches must do something."

"The schools have made their programs of education so much more attractive than the churches. I don't see why it should be that way.'

At the conclusion of the meeting, Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell said that a meeting of the special committee from the Council of Religious Education planned to meet this week to draft a proposed program for presentation to the entire council.

Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church, presided. Miss Beverly Wentz sang "I Heard a Forest Praying" as an offertory solo, with Miss Elizabeth Burneson at the organ.

Metcalf Wins N-J Head Pin Meet

4 Changes Listed On Final Day

By CHARLEY STINE

Dick Metcalf—a Class B bowler who blasted 15 strikes for a 333 series on April 18 was today officially crowned king of the News-Journal head pin tournament. The tourney closed yesterday after a month's run on the Richland Recreation alleys.

Metcalf will receive a large trophy from the News-Journal as will Elnora Kanz, the women's leader. Miss Kanz rolled a 298 series on April 16.

Twenty-five per cent of those entering the tournament will receive cash awards. A total of 477 persons entered the joust, thus 119 will be given cash awards.

DIVIDED EVENLY

The prizes will be divided evenly among the leaders of the five divisions, that is 25 per cent of each group will get awards.

The marks of the two leaders withstood some heavy bombardment on the final day. Four new bowlers placed among the top ten, two of them taking over division leads.

Ray Snavely shot a 316 to win the Class C men's championship while Louise Ludwig's 282 was good enough for the women's B title.

Snavely had 13 strikes and missed the head pin only once in putting together his 316 with games of 107, 101 and 108. Louise had six strikes and three missing in shooting to the top with her 77-111-94—282.

INTO TOP TEN

Other marks yesterday which slipped into the top ten included Orlie Grable's 318 and Nick Weber's 308, in Class A and Fritz Weber's 285 in Class B.

Grable merely held onto the same position but boosted his previous high by four pins. He threatened to take the over-all leadership away from Metcalf until going into a slump halfway through the last game.

He had started out with games of 108 and 109 and had 56 in the sixth frame of the fianale. From here on out he had but one strike and suffered his only miss of the series in the tenth frame, to wind up with a 101 game and 318 total. Sixteen strikes were included in the three games.

Nick Weber got his 308 on games of 103, 106, and 99 while Fritz Weber's 285 came on 99-97-89.

WINS 'A' TITLE

Bob Lynch, Mansfield's highest average bowler, won the Class A championship with a total of 325 pins. Roy Craig had 323 on the first night of the month-long tourney and finished in second place.

The Richland alleys will be shut down for a week for renovation.

CHAMP LET'S GO—Bob Lynch, Class champion of the News-Journal head pin tournament, is caught by the News-Journal photographer just as he set a ball sailing down the alley for another strike.

Home Run Blasts Feature Major League Baseball

By JOE REICHLER, AP Sports Writer

This may be a new baseball season, but major league pitchers are finding out, much to their sorrow, that Ralph Kiner, Johnny Mize and Ted Williams still pack that old home run wallop.

Each of the three home run kings of 1947 crashed four-baggers yesterday to lead their respective teams to important victories.

Kiner, whose 51 homers tied Mize for the National league championship, cracked two to pace the surprising Pirates to a 6-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds in Pittsburgh. Both were hit off Lanky Ewell Blackwell, the second coming with two men on base. They were his second and third of the season.

RETAIN FIRST PLACE

The victory was Pittsburgh's eighth against four defeats and enabled the pace-setting Pirates to retain their half-game lead over the New York Giants in the National league.

Mize slammed a home run with one mate aboard to break a 1-1 tie and inaugurate a four-run sixth inning as the Giants went on to defeat the Boston Braves, 5-1, in New York.

It was the slugging first baseman's third home run of the year.

Williams was the whole works in the 7-1 Red Sox triumph over the New York Yankees in Boston. Thumpin' Ted, who paced the American league with 32 home runs last year, tripled in the first inning off righthander Karl Drews to drive in two runs. He banged his fourth home run of the season in the eighth off lefthander Joe Page with two mates aboard for a day's total of five runs batted in. Ted now leads the American league with 14 RBI's.

The rebounding Detroit Tigers handed the Indians their second straight defeat before 57,450 fans in Cleveland, 4-2.

VAULT INTO SECOND

The Philadelphia Athletics vaulted into second place by whipping the Washington Senators for the third straight time in the Capital City, 4-3. It was the Senators' fifth consecutive defeat.

Lefty Ken Heintzelman pitched a four-hit shutout for Philadelphia in the National league to give the Phillies a split in their doubleheader with Brooklyn. The Phils won the afterpiece 2-0 after the Brooks had pasted four pitchers for 13 hits and a 9-6 win in the first game.

Ed (Duke) Snider, rookie outfielder, led the Dodgers' first game attack with two home runs, a triple and a single in five times at bat. He drove in four runs. Curt Simmons, Philadelphia's $60,000 bonus beauty, suffered his third loss of the season.

Amassing 19 hits off five pitchers, the Chicago Cubs buried the Cardinals under a 13-4 score in St. Louis. A seven-run Cub eighth inning ended all hopes for the Redbirds.

Citation, Jock Set Sights On Triple Crown

LOUISVILLE—(AP)—The "Rock-em-and sock-em" combination of Kentucky Derby record smashers, Calumet farm's Citation and Jockey Eddie Arcaro, set dead aim today on a few more marks in their quest for the coveted triple crown—America's diadem of three-year-old racing supremacy.

While old Louisville slowly returned to normalcy after Citation and Arcaro showed how a hoss race should be run Saturday, all eyes were turned on the approaching Preakness and Belmont stakes.

HAVE SOME TIME

Usually the Preakness, to be run at Pimlico in Baltimore May 15, comes one week after the Derby but there'll be no hustle and bustle to the railroad car and the trip to Maryland this time. The trainers can bide their time, and speculate on the apparent futility of challenging Citation and his nifty-stepping stablemate, Coaltown.

The Belmont stakes at New York follows June 12, and completes the triple crown lineup.

Arcaro could be the first jockey ever to ride two triple crown colts. Only seven horses have been able to grab the elusive triple since the first Derby was run in 1875. Calumet's Whirlaway and Eddy himself did the job once in 1941.

Realty Husbands Beat Wives By 17

In a "feud" match which carried on over two weeks, the Larimore Realty husbands out-bowled the Larimore Realty wives—by 17 pins.

The match started with three games April 25 on the Richland Recreation alleys and ended yesterday with another series at Colony. Winnie Cleckner paced the men over the two weeks with 1004 while Evelyn Marshman topped the women with 884.

Game Rained Out

T. & E. Tavern's baseball game with the Leesville Reds yesterday afternoon was rained out. The Tavern team will open its season next Sunday against the New London Merchants at Liberty park.

Two Shooters Tie In Zone

SANDUSKY—Elmer Clemons, Port Clinton, and Frank Carroll, Brecksville, tied for first in the North West Zone trap shoot here yesterday with 99's.

Roy Finnell, Toledo, and H. C. Fisher, Findlay, tied for third with 98's.

Mansfield shooters got a late start and had to compete in the wind and rain which kept their scores down. Chet Beer led the way with 93x100 while Monte Whitney had a 90. Other Mansfield scores follow: Russell Heston, 89; M. Matthews and Harold Fry, 85; J. C. Shanks, 84; C. M. Matthes, 82; N. H. Heston and Harley Cloes, 77; R. Fry and John Buckholtz, 71.

More than 125 shooters competed.

Detroit Mound Ace Beats Tribe, 4-2

CLEVELAND—(INS)—The once clout-conscious Cleveland Indians know today why the Detroit Tigers have one of the best mound staffs in the majors.

Only three hits—a home run by Manager Lou Boudreau and a home run and a single by Pitcher Bob Lemon—were registered yesterday off the Tigers' Freddie Hutchinson as the Tribe went down to a 4-2 defeat before 57,450 fans at the Cleveland municipal stadium.

Meanwhile the Bengals were collecting eight bingles off Lemon, who was bidding for his third victory in as many starts.

Except for the two Indians who collected the three hits off the Tiger ace, no one reached first base, either by walk or error.

OPEN IN FIRST

Detroit opened the scoring in the first inning when Lemon walked Eddie Mayo, who immediately stole second. George Kell, always dangerous to the Redskins, slashed a double to center field, easily scoring Mayor. Pat Mullin brought Kell home with a single to right.

Boudreau hit his round-tripper in the first and Lemon contributed his four-bagger to tie the score in the third. However, the Bengals added one more in the fourth and eighth innings to cinch the victory.

Hoot Evers connected with one of Lemon's curves in the fourth inning and poled it into left field for a home run. The ball sailed over the wire fence and bounced against the stands for the first circuit-clout of the year by a visiting club.

DOBY IS BOOED

For the first time this season in Cleveland, Larry Doby was booed. The fans jeered at the colored outfielder when he came to the plate in the first inning after having made his fourth outfield blunder in two days.

Boudreau declared last night that despite the Tribe's two consecutive defeats, the lineup will remain unchanged when the Indians invade Philadelphia tomorrow.

The Tribe chief will continue to use the same outfield with Dale Mitchell and Allie Clark alternating in left field, depending upon the opposing pitching.

Bob Muncrief is slated to go to the mound for the Tribe tomorrow and Bob Feller is expected to hurl Wednesday. Lemon will pitch again Thursday.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Court's Ban Of Pricing Shocks Steel

Uses Same System As Cement Firms

CLEVELAND —(U.P.)— The supreme court's decision banning the multiple basing point system in the sale of cement has "shocked" the steel industry which also uses the system, the Magazine Steel said today.

"The high court's ruling has shocked the steelmakers into acute realization that their pricing system is in jeopardy," Steel said. "Outlawing of the practice in the sale of steel would result in serious dislocations among both steel producers and consumers."

The magazine said that "from the long term view" the court's decision threatens "revolutionary changes" in the marketing of iron and steel products.

Meanwhile, Steel said, a dual set of steel prices may result from reductions by small producers in the wake of U. S. Steel's $25,000,000 annual slash. The magazine indicated that independent companies would not follow the pattern of the larger corporation on all products.

The price cuts themselves have not written off the possibility of a future markup because the new policy of holding wages and reducing prices is "largely an experiment untested by economic realities," Steel said.

Steelmaking operations rose sharply last week to 87 per cent of capacity, a gain of 11½ points over the preceding week, Steel said. Operations gained 32 points to 84 per cent at Cincinnati, 28 to 100 at Birmingham, 24 to 88 at Buffalo, 24 to 75 at Youngstown, 13 to 81 in Eastern Pennsylvania, 10 to 92½ at Pittsburgh, 8 to 80 at Wheeling, 4 to 89 at St. Louis, 1½ to 97 at Cleveland, 1 to 86 at Chicago and 1 to 81 in New England.

WOOSTER INVITES BAND

The Tyger marching band, along with those of several other schools, has been invited to attend the mock convention held at Oberlin college next Friday. This convention is held every four years by the students to select their nominees for the office of president of the United States.

It is conducted just like the Republican and Democratic conventions. Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton will lead the parade on an elephant, and New Jersey Senator H. Alexander Smith will make the opening address.

This is the twenty-second time the convention has been held. Their slogan is, "As Oberlin goes, so goes the nation."

The concert choir presented an assembly Friday in the auditorium. There were solos and ensemble numbers sung by those who participated recently in the district music contest.

There was a lot of worrying going on behind the scenes before the Junior class got their rummage sale out of the way. Clothes were slow to come in, but in the end the class came out $66 to the good. Susan Stoodt was general chairman.

Horoscope

For Tuesday, May 4.

The advent of a sudden and surprising event appearing at first view as calamitous and unwelcome, may be turned to good account by pausing to give careful analysis to the situation, to be followed by a decision based on acumen and regulated business procedures, rather than an impetuous course of action or an unreasoning and emotional conclusion. Pause for shrewd evaluation of unforeseen openings that could spell progress and ultimate benefit.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by a rather critical situation in which sudden change, new contacts and propositions call for a shrewd and practical approach rather than a rash and impulsive jumping at conclusions. An emotional or erratic grasp of really fresh and progressive opportunities, could impede progress, cause estrangements and otherwise open up disagreeable situations. Originality, innovation, even fantastic ideas might be turned into lucrative channels by sound techniques and regulation business tactics, routine rather than daring.

A child born on this day while prone to be erratic and emotional, yet has sufficient intellect to grasp progressive possibilities and make wise decisions.

Confidential Information Widely Told

U. S. Spokesmen Share Their Data

WASHINGTON —(UP)— President Truman, Secretary of State George C. Marshall and other officials of the government recently have been sharing confidential material on foreign policy with vast numbers of people.

This is a new use of the "off-the-record" system under which government officials once explained confidential matters to news correspondents.

The way things have been going lately, most anybody can hear an "off-the-record" statement by the president or the secretary of state if he just goes to enough dinners or conventions.

In recent weeks, the President made two important statements about American foreign policy to large groups. One was to a banquet meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The other was to the conference of business paper editors.

In each case, he talked at length about this country's relations with Russia. And in each case, his remarks were off-record. At the ASNE banquet, not only the editors were in the Statler hotel's huge banquet hall, but their wives, friends, waiters, busboys, firemen, policemen and assorted hotel personnel.

Yet, what the President said was so confidential that the newspapers could not print it. They were bound by a code of journalistic morals, in this particular case, applied by the editors themselves.

After the ASNE banquet, the President's press secretary, Charles G. Ross had no objection to Mr. Truman's off-record remarks being published. A number of editors agreed. But the ASNE leadership said no—the President had been invited to speak off-record and they wanted it to stay that way.

The reasoning behind this decision was this: The President had met the editors in his office on two previous ASNE meetings here and talked off-record. They wanted the same situation to apply to the Statler banquet hall.

Their previous meetings in the President's office, however, were not attended by wives, friends, waiters, busboys, firemen, policemen and assorted hotel personnel. The group consisted only of the President, his staff and the editors.

A little over a week ago, the President virtually repeated his ASNE speech to a group of more than 70 business paper editors. He spoke to them in his office. The ASNE speech, which followed an one-the-record radio talk about inflation, was made to about 700 persons.

Last week, Marshall discussed foreign policy at confidential length to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention in the same huge Statler ballroom which was packed for the occasion. A few paragraphs of what he said were okayed by the state department for attribution, but not direct quotation.

Some working reporters here reason that if something can be said before hotel waiters and busboys, surely it is not too confidential for the public at large.

Skip Alexander Takes National Capital Tourney

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Slow-talking, 220-pound Skip Alexander of Mid Pines, N. C., is $2,200 richer today after winning the National Capital Open Golf tournament with a 17-under-par card of 271 for 72 holes.

Alexander's steady firing over the Prince Georges (Md.), county club course Sunday left the early-favored Bobby Locke of South Africa far behind. They were even at the start of the day, but Locke slipped back six strokes for 277.

Ben Hogan shot a listless 71, but it was good enough to give him the $1,100 third prize with a 72-hole card of 280.

Skee Riegel, national amateur king, was low man among the non-professionals, with a 287.

Braves Victims Of Ball Thieves

NEW YORK —(INS)— To the Boston Braves the word "steal" means more today than getting the jump on a pitcher and advancing an extra base.

The Braves' clubhouse at the Polo grounds was sacked by thieves sometime Saturday night. Missing were nine gloves, eight pairs of shoes, a windbreaker, a bat and five caps.

The New York Giants came to the aid of their opponents by lending the victimized players equipment.

Dodgers Ask Waivers On Cookie Lavagetto

NEW YORK —(UP)— Anybody want to buy a World Series hero?

The Brooklyn Dodgers were asking waivers today on Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto, whose pinch-hit double with two out in the ninth inning gave the Dodgers victory in the fourth game of the last World Series and robbed the Yanks' Bill Bevens of a no-hit game.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Atom to Aid Profession

WASHINGTON— (AP) —President Truman says great discoveries in peacetime uses of atomic energy are "on the brink."

The President did not go into detail but he was discussing medical applications of atomic discoveries at a meeting of between 700 and 800 delegates to the National Health assembly. Many scientists now are at work on experiments aimed at applying in medical work the discoveries made in the manufacture of the atomic bomb.

Mr. Truman said only that he had been told great things are in the making.

He added that Henry Ford once told him that the benefits from World War II research might more than offset the enormous damage caused by the conflict.

Predicts Extension of Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act

Committee Opens Study On Measure

Present Act To Expire June 12

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Rep. Kuntson (R-Minn.) predicted today that Congress will approve a temporary, one-year extension of the reciprical trade agreements act "with safeguards."

Knutson made his prediction as a House ways and means subcommittee prepared to open hearings behind closed doors on continuation of the New Deal law.

The subcommittee is headed by Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.), who has set a May 15 goal for House enactment. The 1934 act expires June 12.

Knutson told a reporter that the following "safeguards" may be written into the act:

1. A provision requiring ratification by Congress of new tariff agreements negotiated by the state department.

2. A floor on tariff reductions.

Sentiment also is reported for barring the President from reducing tariffs any further. Three years ago, when the act last was extended, Republicans made a strong fight to eliminate a provision authorizing the President to make an additional 50 per cent cut in tariff rates.

The Democratic-controlled House rejected the GOP attempt by a slim 23-vote margin.

ENOUGH VOTES FOR BAN

With both Houses now controlled by the Republicans, there are ample votes, if the GOP leadership desires, to write such a ban into the act.

At a news conference last week, President Truman was advited that a move also was underway to bar new trade agreements during the next year. The President said that would be a terrible thing to do.

Republicans are eager to make extensive revision in the law on the ground that the Democrats have "given away" too much in the way of trade concessions sentiment for eliminating it enfits in return. There is strong without receiving adequate benefitrely.

The plan now is to wait until the 81st Congress convenes in January, when they anticipate there will be a Republican president in the White House. That would give them ample time, at cost six months, in which to write an entirely new law.

Hub Caps Taken From Two Autos

Hub caps appeared to be the principal interest of the thieves who rifled the cars of two Mansfield area residents Saturday night at the carnival grounds on U. S. Route 30-E.

Derwin Shenaberry of Fredericktown reported to sheriff's deputies that the hub caps from his 1947 automobile were taken along with the white tire rims, 10 pounds of meat, one blanket, two pillows and a cigaret case. The theft was believed to have occurred between 10:30 p. m. and 12:20 a. m. Sunday when Shenaberry reported the theft.

Ten minutes later, at 12:30 a. m. Sunday, deputies had another call from Charles Strang of Londonville, who reported that all four hub caps had been stolen from his 1941 automobile while the car was parked at the carnival grounds.

spot to replace Madison township Precinct "A" Thomas R. Zeigler, board clerk, said a place was to be found today—in the immediate vicinity of the old voting place at 222 West Longview avenue. As flags are displayed outside, voters won't have trouble finding it.

The secretary of state's office in Columbus predicted 650,000 Republicans and 550,000 Democrats would vote tomorrow in Ohio.

There is no presidential delegate fight on the Democratic side. Ohio Democrats will send their 58 delegates to Philadelphia to vote for President Truman.

U. S. Treasurer W. A. Julian of Cincinnati is the "favorite son" nominee, because Mr. Truman was not a candidate when the Democratic delegates were chosen. This was regarded as a mere formality.

Miller and Lausche continued their slugging match last night.

Miller reported more than $11,000 was distributed to party workers in Cleveland to aid "the organization" in the primary. Lausche said in a speech after Miller's announcement:

"I am sure that votes cannot be bought in Ohio.

"It is shocking to me to learn that the Democratic organization is spending $11,000 to obtain votes. If that much is being spent in Cuyahoga county, I leave it to your imagination to figure out how much is being spent in other counties."

Miller said the funds were contributed by himself and other county officials seeking renomination. He said a minimum of $10 was allotted to each of the 780 Cleveland precincts and $5 to each of 404 suburban precincts. In making the announcement, Miller warned party workers Lausche represents the most serious challenge Democratic "regulars" ever have faced in Cuyahoga county.

The drive has been extended through May 8. Richland county's goal is $24,000.

Ministers to Make Spiritual Survey of City In Autumn

A spiritual survey of the city to be undertaken next fall during one week with a follow-up campaign to get folks to attend churches of their choices, was planned this morning by members of the Mansfield Ministerial association at their regular meeting.

The survey was tentatively outlined in connection with a panel discussion on "Meeting Community Needs." Rev. V. C. Stamets, pastor of the First Evangelical UB church, spoke on "Reaching the Unchurched." Major William Jones, head of the Salvation Army, talked on the subject, "Reaching the Underprivileged," and Maurice W. Taylor, executive secretary of the YMCA, spoke about "Community Cooperation."

Members discussed more extensive cooperation with the various welfare agencies of the city with a view to building a community in which "religious life can flourish," Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner said today. Results of the planned surveys and projects will be referred to the Coordinating Council of Churches of Richland county, now in the making.

Pastors of the city also voted to cooperate with "I Am an American" day celebration here Sunday, May 16.

Ask Bids On School Jobs

ASHLAND—Proposed construction of additions to two of Ashland's elementary buildings moved a step further with the decision of Ashland board of education to advertise for bids for the additions to Osborn and Lincoln schools.

Specifications have been completed by an architect for addition of ten classrooms, cafeterias and gymnasium at Osborn school and two additional classrooms, toilets and storeroom at Lincoln school.

The construction is being financed through the $400,000 bond issue passed by Ashland school district last November.

BUILD BAND BOWL

Meanwhile if construction work proceeds on schedule, Ashlanders will attend band concerts and other programs in the new music and dramatic shell at Brookside park this summer.

Ground has been broken at the site for the shell, gift of Mrs. Guy C. Myers of Ashland as a memorial to her late husband.

Workmen are now grading the hillside upon which seating facilities will be provided for 3,000 people. On an opposite hillside will be located the stage, with an apron connecting the stage and seating sections.

The new bowl will seat a 100-piece band or orchestra, with space provided for storage and dressing rooms. Natural scenic beauty and good accoustics make the location ideal for the bowl.

Hughes Plans Movie Deal

HOLLYWOOD— (AP) — Howard Hughes, who does things in the grand manner, has readied another eight or nine million dollars to sink into a new venture.

The shy, reserved 43-year-old bachelor who developed an oil tool business into a vast fortune, branched into movie production, got out of it and into the airplane business, has taken an option to purchase control of RKO studios.

Not content with bossing one of the world's biggest commercial airlines and building and flying experimental planes, Hughes last night announced that he had reached a tentative agreement with Floyd Odlum for the purchase of the latter's 928,000 shares of RKO stock.

MURPHY-HENRY WEDDING VOWS EXCHANGED SUNDAY

LAWRENCE NEGLEY MURPHY, 2 Arnold avenue, Sunday afternoon took as his bride Miss Mary Irene Henry, Ontario. The marriage was solemnized at 2:30 o'clock in the Ontario Community Methodist church by the Rev. Robert W. McNary.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. and the late L. J. Henry, Ontario, and Mr. Murphy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Murphy, Ashland.

Mrs. C. Park Arter, Crestline, was the organist and Vaughn Rinehart sang several nuptial airs. Palms, ferns and beauty baskets of flowers decorated the altar.

Robert E. Henry gave his sister in marriage. She was wearing a traditional ivory satin wedding gown with bead trim around the sweetheart neckline. The skirt fell in a long train and the veil was fingertip length and was caught to a beaded tiara. The veil was edged with Chantilly lace. The cascade wedding ring bouquet was composed of white roses and lilies of the valley with a corsage of white roses in the center.

Mrs. R. M. Sayre, Ashland, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. C. C. The bride's brother-in-law, Raymond M. Sayre, Ashland, served as Mr. Murphy's best man. Ushers were John R. Henry, the bride's brother of Ontario, and Charles C. Hause, her brother-in-law of Mansfield.

The reception was given for 100 guests immediately after the ceremony. It was held in the church and the bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Orval Bemiller jr., cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Russell Dalenberg poured. Also assisting with the serving were Miss Ann Rogers, Miss Edith Snodgrass, Miss Virginia Bush and Mrs. William Birmelin jr.

When the couple left for Niagara Falls for a honeymoon the bride was wearing a gray gabardine suit with pink accessories and a fur neck scarf. She completed the ensemble with the corsage from her wedding bouquet. They will reside at 67 Rowland avenue after May 10.

Mrs. Murphy was graduated Springfield Township high school and Mansfield Business Training school. Her husband is a graduate of Ashland high school and the American Aircraft Institute, Chicago. They will hold their annual picnic at Mohican State park Sunday, June 13.

Your Vote Will Help Democracy Live

TOMORROW IS THE DAY, your precinct voting booth is the place. The occasion is the primary election at which Democrats and Republicans express their preferences as to party candidates for county, district and state offices, in preparation for the final choice to be made at the November election.

Ballots of both parties present contests for county and state offices and it is unfair to the system of self government that minorities should be permitted to make the selection of nominees, for no public office can rightly be considered unimportant.

In addition to nominations for various offices, tomorrow's primaries include designation of choice for delegates to both national conventions, and each party will wish to make a creditable showing in the number of ballots cast, as this will reflect a partisan interest in national as well as local and state handling of public business.

The time: 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. Vote early if convenient; vote late if necessary—but VOTE!

Unity In Western Europe Sought

THE FIVE nations of western Europe which recently formed a political, economic and military alliance have begun to set up administrative and conference groups to make their alliance an actual operating force. A central administrative committee will bring representatives of the five nations together for weekly talks.

The five nations appear bent on setting the world an example in international co-operation. By maintaining close and continuous contact, confidence and understanding can be built up, to aid in solving future problems of relations which may occur from time to time.

There is the possibility also of expanding the alliance into some sort of a union of European states, and this idea is to be explored in a conference at The Hague. The alliance in present form may spread over a larger area. Already a possible invitation to Italy is under consideration. Formation of the five-power alliance strengthens western Europe, and offers encouragement elsewhere.

Mansfield Attuned To Music Week

LITERALLY hundreds of Mansfielders are actual participants in the current observance of the 25th annual National Music week. During the six days from Sunday, May 2, through Friday, May 7, there is being staged a series of concerts and musical programs that is the most comprehensive in the city's history.

Church choirs, school instrumentalists and vocalists, professional musicians, clubs and private students, along with out-of-town soloists, are combining their talents to make the city literally resound with harmony and song to the keynote of "Foster American Music."

Thousands more will participate in the observance as members of audiences at the various concerts.

Mansfield can well be proud of its musicians and recognition of their ability this week is entirely fitting. There is, however, something above and beyond mere recognition of talent which is significant in the present festival. It is the undisputed power of music to draw together people of all ages and all social standards in a cooperative expression of beauty in sound.

More Needed Than High Grades

PARENTS who are preparing their children for life, and presumably for a successful life, will be interested in the results of an investigation carried out by Dr. Frank S. Endicott, placement director and professor of education at Northwestern University.

Speaking before a convention of the Illinois Vocational association, he outlined conclusions reached by a study of the answers to questionnaires. These had been sent to 70 companies, among which were some of the largest corporations in the country. He admitted that in some fields, top grades were important, but the majority of employers place them low on the list of qualifications for good jobs.

Personality traits, such as dependability, accuracy, cooperativeness, courtesy, and cheerfulness were listed as essential. A college student with a B average and a record of successful participation in campus activities stands a better chance of employment than does a recluse with exceptionally high grades.

In many elementary schools, the tendency is away from a rigid marking system, and toward a report card which embodies aptitudes and personality traits. The parent is informed of his child's attitude toward his fellow students and of his degree of co-operation with the teacher and with the class. This moves toward achievement of the qualifications listed by the placement director. Good grades have value as evidence of work well done. But they are not enough. Learning to get along with other people is even more important.

After noting that $31,000 was found in the cushion of a chair in Milwaukee, Harry Wade remarks: "When inflation really sets in, we understand the stuff is to be used for car upholstery."

In case you run across it sometime, "plimber" is the word being used in England to designate plastic timber used for house construction.

Shameful Waste of Dwindling Reserves

By MARQUIS CHILDS

PICTURES of a collection of brand-new Texas multi-millionaires were displayed recently in a spread in Life magazine. These men have put together fabulous fortunes within a few years.

The question that naturally occurs is how this is possible with the income tax what it is today. Most of us pay out just about all our surplus to Uncle Sam, and we struggle and sweat to come out even at the end of the year.

The explanation for the Texas millionaires is a special provision in the income-tax law. It allows an individual or a corporation owning a natural resource to deduct for the depletion of that resource.

The owner of an oil well or a natural-gas reserve can offset 27½ per cent of his profit for depletion. Through the years he may write off well over 100 per cent of the value of his property in this way. Thus the Texas oil man is able to keep far more of his profits than the average industrialist or business man.

This is pointed up by a bill just reported out of a Senate committee which would give natural-gas companies a new advantage. According to Sen. Tom Stewart of Tennessee, in a minority report, the bill would nullify federal regulation of natural gas. The two Republican members of the committee, Sen. Ed Moore of Oklahoma, spokesman for the oil and gas interests, and Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana, say it would merely "clarify" the authority under which the Federal Power Commission now regulates the industry.

In his minority report, Sen. Stewart points to a lot of things which this seemingly innocent bill would do. It would almost certainly mean rate increases in the northern cities that use natural gas.

But far from important in the long run is the encouragement that it would give to more rapid exploitation of what is a very limited natural resource. Stewart said:

"Thus the bill threatens early exhaustion of the only indigenous fuel resource of the southwestern states and would impair the ability of such states to balance their economy through industrial development."

* * *

For Enrichment of Few.

IN VIEW of our dwindling oil reserves, this is hardly the time to open the way to burning up at an even more rapid rate a valuable fuel resource. Here is the most serious problem before the American people today and thus far there is little understanding of it.

The old attitude of "get while the getting is good" threatens the last remaining resources on this once incalculably rich continent.

Unless these last resources are protected and conserved, we shall become a poor nation, degenerating into mass misery in the pattern of China.

That this is no idle bogey is shown with startling clarity in the much discussed book, "Our Plundered Planet," by Fairfield Osborn.

The natural-gas people are only one of many interests seeking to get favors out of Washington. The coming to power of the Republicans is taken as a kind of rallying cry of "come and get it." And unfortunately there are Republicans in Congress working hard to confirm that impression.

In the natural-gas industry, according to testimony during hearings, 25 large corporations control 77 per cent of the total gas acreage in the two largest gas fields in the country, which are both in Texas. Commissioner Leland Olds of the FPC testified that, if the 25 companies got a 9 per cent rate increase, their reserves would bring in "an extra amount totaling $1,616,450,000."

That is a very large sum of money. But again let it be said that the money itself is not the most important element. The secondary effect in holding out higher profits is to encourage wild and wasteful exploitation of vanishing natural wealth.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On May 3, 1944, it was announced that Dr. Robert W. Woodward and Dr. William E. Doering had produced a synthetic quinine derived from coal tar products. The new synthetic was produced in the Harvard University laboratories.

Dave Boone Says:

I SEE where there's now talk of a railroad strike. Bus strikes, subway strikes, taxicab strikes, truck strikes and dozens of others loom all around us. How about everybody agreeing to a strike on all forms of transportation? This would mean that everybody would have to stay home a few weeks or months and meet the wife's demand to loosen the sticky windows, paint the porch and help plant the geraniums.

* * *

The result would be that nobody would stand for another transportation strike for fifty years.

Mrs. Richard T. McSorley of Philadelphia has been voted the Catholic mother of 1948. She has fifteen children. Four sons are in the church and one is preparing for it. Three daughters are nuns. This is pretty wonderful but of course, she can't expect the photographers and writers to get as excited over her as they do over some women rushing to get married for the fifth or sixth time.

Speaking of Your Health

When Vision Is Clouded

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CLOUDING of the lens of the eye is known as cataract. There are various reasons for the tissue changes which lead to cataract, among them being poor circulation and poor diet. It is generally agreed, however, that when cataract appears before the age of 60 it is due either to infection of the eye itself or to a toxic condition elsewhere in the body, in which substances harmful to the lens are produced.

Such changes in the lens occurring after the age of 60, and the majority of cases do occur after 60, are usually due to the aging processes. Some physicians are of the opinion that these changes are unavoidable and cannot be warded off.

However, other doctors believe that with right living habits, such as the use of proper diet, rest and exercise, and the correction of physical disorders, the development of cataract in elderly persons often can be prevented.

Warning Signals

The patient with cataract usually consults a doctor because of spots before the eyes, dizziness, or headache, or because light causes pain in the eyes. In other instances, the only symptoms of cataract are gradual loss of vision.

Many persons with beginning cataract, failing to realize their trouble, feel that all they need to do is to buy a pair of glasses. Of course, this will not correct their vision because the cataract blocks the passage of light rays into the eye. Furthermore, the delay in having treatment allows the cataract to progress.

Loss of Eyesight

Early changes in the lens of the eye produce a gradual loss of eyesight. In fact, the loss of vision may be so gradual that the patient is not conscious of any inconvenience.

Up to the present, the only satisfactory method of treating cataract, once it is fully developed, is by removal of the lens. Of course, the operation should be done by one who is skilled in this procedure.

Physical Condition

Before the operation the patient should be put in the best possible physical condition. Following it the patient should be kept on his back for about four hours, after which time he may be turned on either side. However, the head must be kept flat for at least a week.

As persons approach middle age, they should consult an eye specialist from time to time for examination of the eyes, even if they have had no difficulty with the vision. In this way, the development of cataract may be discovered early and proper measures taken to ward off the progress of the condition or, in any event, to keep the eyes under observation until operation is required.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Thomas Chooses Queer Business Friends

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Two years have now passed since this column exposed the fact that Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma was gambling on the commodity market while making Senate speeches calculated to influence the market. The story at that time was vigorously denied. And since senators believe each other rather than a mere newspaperman, naturally they did nothing about it.

However, six months have now passed since Senator Thomas brazenly reversed his denial and publicly admitted that he had been speculating.

As a result, a Senate subcommittee supposedly has been investigating Senator Thomas.

But nothing has happened. Not a peep has come out of the Senate committee. Reams of additional information regarding Thomas's amazing deals in cotton, silver, and the weird characters with whom he gambled, have now been furnished Senator Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the subcommittee. Ferguson is an able senator. He has a record for cleaning up graft in Michigan.

But so far his committee has been silent. Not long ago, Ferguson issued a report on Howard Hughes in which he discreetly omitted the name of Senator Brewster of Maine, despite the fact that serious charges had been made against Brewster.

However, Brewster is a Republican, and so is Chairman Ferguson. Thomas of Oklahoma is not. He is a Democrat, and usually Democrats are fair game for Republicans—unless senatorial courtesy is involved.

However, just in case the Senate committee still makes an official pretense at being interested in the gambling of Senator Thomas, here is something else.

* * *

Thomas's Queer Friends.

IN 1941, one Mickey Rosner, with an FBI record, walked into the office of A. L. Stamm and company, New York commodity brokers, in company with Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, and opened an account. He also asked that he receive duplicate copies of all trading statements, implying that one was for the senator from Oklahoma.

Later the account was allowed to lapse. But in 1946, Rosner reopened his account with Stamm. This was at about the time the Washington Merry-Go-Round published its first expose of Thomas's speculating and when the senator was hitting the market hard.

Rosner opened accounts not only for himself, but for his wife, child, brother and other members of his family. Then, after running his profit up to $75,000, he was suddenly wiped out in a slump.

This brought howls of anguish from Senator Thomas's interesting friend. Telephoning the brokers from Washington, he charged they had failed to give him sufficient time to cover his margins, threatened to have them investigated by Senator Thomas.

* * *

Mickey's Record.

TO FULLY appreciate the high, upstanding company Thomas picks for himself, you have to look at Mickey Rosner's record. In 1925 he was convicted of obstructing justice, but the verdict was reversed. In 1936 he fenagled $2,500 out of the Lindbergh family for information on the kidnaping case from Owney Madden and Salvy Spitale—information which he never produced. Also in 1936 he was ousted as police chief of Long Beach, N. Y., after a scandal.

Then, in 1939, Rosner strangely turned up as lobbyist for the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, and used the office of Senator Thomas to help block a bill requiring wool products to be labeled.

Despite Rosner's record, Thomas let him have the run of his office, the use of his telephone, a desk, his stenographic force, and, most important of all, the influence of the senator—then chairman of the powerful agricultural committee.

All this would not surprise those who know Thomas well. It's just another chapter in his amazing intrigue with farm lobbyist Ralph Moore, Tom Linder of Georgia, A. G. MacDonald, the Texas agricultural commissioner, and Dyke Cullum, who recently cornered part of the dried-pea market. The really surprising thing is that the Senate has done nothing to protect its own good name in connection with this senator.

Note—Last year Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon introduced a bill requiring senators to register their stock and commodity deals with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Senator Curley Brooks of Illinois, Republican, has not even let this bill out of his rules committee.

* * *

Palestine Bargaining.

A BRITISH rumored plan to hold up Uncle Sam for more Marshall Plan aid by bargaining over Palestine has been reported to President Truman by Senator Harley Kilgore, West Virginia Democrat.

Kilgore criticized the British for arming and training King Abdullah's legions, and warned the President of a report that Britain intended to press for more U. S. aid in return for using its influence to make Abdullah behave.

"There's nothing shaking on that," Truman replied.

He added that if the British tried to high-pressure us, their action would backfire.

The President agreed that the British were in a bad spot for building up Abdullah's army in the first place.

Sowing Seeds of War

By THOMAS L. STOKES

THE APPARENT trend in our policy in Germany toward collaborating with cartelists, industrialists and bankers who helped to promote the nazi onslaught upon the world has reached the point that senators who are aware of the dangerous implications of such a course are becoming disturbed and aroused.

One of them, Senator Harley M. Kilgore (D., W. Va.) went to the White House to call the attention of President Truman to recent developments in Germany that seem to need some explanation, among them the order by General Lucius Clay, American administrator, that very nearly nullifies our policy established by Congress for breaking up the great monopolies and cartels.

This order, as was revealed here a few days ago, was protested by nineteen members of the decartelization branch of the American military government. In their protest they said it was represented as having been approved in principle by the state department.

Senator Kilgore is an authority on German cartels, their history, influence and ramifications, and has kept in touch with developments in Germany.

As chairman of a special Senate committee he conducted an exhaustive investigation into cartels. This showed not only their part in the war and their international tie-ups with big business in France, England and the United States that impeded our own war preparation, but also disclosed how our failure to do anything about them after the first World war had permitted them to build up the industrial mechanism that supplied the nazi war machine.

The West Virginia senator has warned that similarly we may now be sowing the seeds of the third World war.

Also disturbed by developments in Germany is Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.). He, likewise, has a background of information on the cartels and their practices as a result of the investigation before the war by the temporary national economic committee, which he headed, into all sorts of monopoly, including the German cartels and their relations with American big business and finance.

"Our program in Germany has got to be an American enterprise based on our fundamental principles of free enterprise, and not a cartel and monopoly enterprise," he said. "Any attempt to compromise with the cartel system will be a denial of everything for which we fought and a repudiation of American policy."

* * *

Strange Selections.

THE developing situation has become particularly important because of the European recovery program which includes Germany and which must not be used to revive the cartel system and restore to power those who worked hand in glove with Adolf Hitler.

Senator Kilgore is anxious that the ERP set-up here under Paul Hoffman include persons familiar with the cartel system, its key figures, and how they operate, so this danger can be avoided.

News dispatches from American correspondents in Germany bring further corroboration of the trend in policy that is disturbing members of Congress.

There comes, for instance, the news that two of the most powerful banking figures of the Hitler regime are about to assume important roles in the new trizonal bank of the German states.

Herman Abs, a former director of the Deutsche Bank, has been selected by the board of directors as president of the new bank, and August Schniewind, formerly a director of the Reich Bank, as chairman of the board. While their selection is subject to approval by the tripartite allied banking commission, the dispatches report that this is expected.

All this is strange and amazing. For a report nearly a year ago by General Clay on an exhaustive investigation made for him identified Herman Abs as an influential member of the Deutsche Bank when it was operating as "an economic arm of the wehrmacht in exploiting the resources of occupied Europe" and as a key figure in the seizure of French and Belgian properties in Luxembourg, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

IT HAS been ruled by a Missouri court that when a man is at the wheel of his car and his wife is pushing she is the driver . . . that gives her one more driving position.

* * *

Up until now she had to be at the wheel or in the back seat . . . now she can drive with one shoulder to the rear bumper . . . in fact I've heard one man say that his wife drives best that way.

* * *

But it's carrying gasoline conservation too far when a woman has to get out and push while her husband steers . . . or he has a well-trained wife.

* * *

Anyway there is good news from the medical profession that the mint julep is an aid to the heart . . . and that's regardless of what it does to the head.

Timely Editorial

More Years for Most of Us.

Pardon our pouncing on it, but this is a type of news item that comes our way all too rarely. It's unqualifiedly cheering and definitely encouraging, words you can't often apply to what you see and hear nowadays. We refer to a report just out by the National Office of Vital Statistics on your chances for a long life. Mark the word "chances".

Since 1933, the bureau advises, death rates in the United States have been dropping in every age group. Fifteen years ago the average age of persons who died was 58.2 years. In 1940 it was 62.6 years and in 1946 it was 64.2 years. The figures for last year are still being assembled.

Your personal problems and the world's many troubles may or may not become fewer and less vexing as the years fall away. At least you now have much better prospects for a full life to worry about them than would have been yours had you been born a generation or so earlier.—Kansas City Star.

Farmer's Diary

While I'm House-Bound

By CALVIN A. BYERS

AN OLD reader used to have some lines about "Time's great clock, that never runs too fast or slow, hung up amid the worlds of space where wheeling planets glow. Her dial plate the orbit vast where moves this mundane sphere, it pushed its hands about again and struck another year."

Now, from the wide rear window of our house, I see the shimmer of bluets across the lower field where the boy is plowing. And I remember the tryst I made last spring with the trilliums on the hill. They'll be blooming now, and their time is short. I'm afraid I shall miss them, this year. (I wonder if they'll miss me.)

Time is the stuff of life, for them, and for all of us.

* * *

THE EARTH is moist and fresh with the smell of the plowing. Long worms stretch themselves in the furrows when the plowshare has passed, and little avalanches of brown earth slither down to cover them. (A worm's eye-view of what goes on the soil must be much different from ours.)

In every neighbor's fields tractors are busy, too. The hum of the motors comes faintly to my ears. Our valley is a patchwork of earth-brown and tender green, with edges trimmed with the lace of wild plum and orchard bloom.

A dozen white hens are slug hunting in the calamus swamp, chuckling and singing whenever their red heads get together. The eggs which the boys bring in have rich yellow-gold yolks doubtless due to the diet of worms and green grass and clover. I think I have never eaten tastier eggs than these.

* * *

The littlest boy (8) races over the lawn in his T-shirt and shorts, his bare legs twinkling. The two young calves race after him. It seems that all three are laughing. The little red and white bull kicks up his heels and cavorts, the heifer hightails toward the pond and stops all at once, stiff-legged. The little boy gives her a push, and she goes in knee-deep. What a joke!

(How I envy young things with so many good legs!) Ah well—it is fine that there are people to appreciate youth, for it cannot appreciate itself. It races along at great speed, like the spring and the year. Perhaps it is well to be house-bound long enough to get the changed view, which is lovely from any angle when blossoms are full of promise, and warm south winds blow.

U. N. Has Fair Share Of Success

Points of Failure Overemphasized

(Editor's Note—This is the first of several dispatches on the successes of the United Nations, many of which are lost sight of in the biter debate over current world questions on which the nations divide between west and east.)

By ROBERT MANNING

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(U.P.)—"The United Nations way is a hard way, a long way . . ." Secretary General Trygve Lie said in a speech the other day in answer to those who complain that the U.N. is dying.

"The United Nations way is just as right today as it was three years ago, and it will be just as right three years—or 30 years—from now," they added, quoting the U.N. chief again.

They resent charges that the U.N. is on the rocks, that it has accomplished nothing, and that its machinery never has and never will work. Especially they resent the phrase "Lake Failure."

"It's been working ever since the winter of 1946, when U.N. began operating in London," an official said. "It's too bad the world does not know how diversified and how fruitful some of that work has been."

Lie remarked two weeks ago that critics of the U.N. should suggest a substitute if they want to abandon attempts at international collaboration.

"The choice did not and does not lie between world government and a cooperative organization of sovereign nations," he said. "The choice lay and still lies between the United Nations and no world organization at all.

"There is nothing wrong with the United Nations except failures to live up to it. There is nothing wrong with the machinery . . . except failures to use it."

In the climate of conflict and futility which has prevailed at Lake Success through two years of the east-west "cold war," U.N. officials pointed out that there have been successes along with the failures.

"But what has the U.N. accomplished?

The U.N. has a lot of answers, some general, some specific.

First, they say it has united more than four-fifths of the world's population — 1,700,000,000 people of 58 different nations—into the most far-reaching attempt man ever has made to make nations live together in peace.

Second, they contend, this venture in political science, sociology and economics is costing virtually nothing—something less than two cents a year for each of the 1,700,000,000 beneficiaries.

Third, for two years it has kept the Soviet Union and the Western Powers talking and negotiating, no matter how stormily.

This Funny World . . .

"It was very easy. I'm the Mrs. Holmes who sent in the questions."

Institute to Hear Author Of 'Ten Commandments'

George Eddy and his "ten commandments of good salesmanship" will appear in Mansfield Tuesday for a retail sales training school at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Eddy, assistant to the vice-president of the Parker Pen company, will conduct the institute from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Luncheon will be served at the hotel.

Convinced that selling is the most natural gift given a person, Eddy believes his "ten commandments" apply to every-day living as well as to behind-the-counter selling. They are:

1. Be pleasant, cordial, friendly.
2. Don't argue.
3. Let the other person talk.
4. Don't contradict.
5. If you take an opposite view, first admit that the other person may have a good point.
6. Tell a complete story.
7. Be attentive.
8. Be enthusiastic.
9. Know what you are talking about.
10. Find something to admire in everyone.

Recruiters Visit Schools In Area

Representatives of the Mansfield Army recruiting office have been visiting high schools in the area offering a vocational guidance course to graduating seniors.

Lt. E. J. Raithal visited schools in Marion and Capt. Robert L. Line and M/Sgt. W. F. Long spoke to senior students in Shelby.

The recruiting officers also informed the students of the choice of schools offered to high school graduates guaranteed before enlistment if the applicant is accepted.

ASK PEACE SESSION

Ski-Type Gear Undergoing Tests on Plane In Alaska

DAYTON —(UP)— A specially constructed retractable ski-type gear that air force officials say will be especially valuable in the event of any future military activity in the Polar regions has been developed for use on the big Fairchild C-82 cargo plane, Wright Field officers disclosed today.

The gear has been installed on a C-82 and is now undergoing three weeks of testing at Ladd Field, Fairbanks, Alaska It is being tested on all types of snow and ice for takeoff, landing distance, and turning radius.

The specialized gear was originally developed by the air materiel command at Wright Field and the Federal Aircraft works of Minneapolis for use on C-47 cargo planes. This type was later used on the naval expedition to the South Pole.

The C-47 installation, however, is the first to be electrically operated and the first to require the use of a nose ski.

In addition to its possible use in military activities in Polar regions, air force officials here said, the ski-gear will make airfields usable throughout a greater part of the year than has been possible before It also will make air transportation possible to the snow-covered Arctic areas.

Challenges U. S. to Act

SAUGATUCK, Conn —(AP)—Vivien Kellems, outspoken woman manufacturer, again has challenged the federal government to indict her and force a test of the legality of the withholding tax law.

Miss Kellems, who announced last February that she no longer would direct withholding taxes from 100 employes' pay envelopes at her Connecticut plant said in a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Snyder that "I am deliberately violating this law."

She said that unions had paid for political advertisements in newspapers to test the Taft-Hartley labor law and that "these unions were quickly indicted and are well on their way to court.

"I feel sure that the government will wish to extend the same cooperation and courtesy to me even though I am only a small employer.

"Therefore I respectfully request that you please indict me."

Miss Kellems, who turned out war material for the navy during the war, enclosed with her letter receipts for wages deducted for the month of January and the first two weeks of February. She said she discontinued the deductions after Feb. 13.
